Basics and Facts over Feelings.

Written by Moth Unknown

[No proselytizing is intended or permitted to share this article]

While I am not a certified educator, there will be a bibliography/works cited section at the end of all facts typed out. For the preservation of my vows (that I keep private) to the God and Goddess who have guided me since adolescence.(All recommended reading is embedded in an article for my own sanity)

In the European country of Wales of the United Kingdoms, there is a language known only as Cymraeg. This is the peninsula on the planet of Earth in the northern hemisphere hundreds of miles from the equator(not pronounced cum rag but c-ee-m-rag). This is a linguistic dialect that for the majority of medieval history from 500-1500 AD was regarded as not the kingdom of Dyfed but south London England.

None of these nice things involving the fight from other Europeans wanting their real estate for money will prepare the reader for polytheism. this is a theology for everyone and anyone who would like to learn. this is also a faith for people who treat their livestock and carnivore pets like friends. More importantly this past of herbalism and reconnection to the land and sacred space through mantra, fasting, memorization and more importantly the modern era of feminist pro-choice movements with a backlash of alternative medicine and the occasional oversimplification through Popular psychology and pseudo-science as fact.

Further Reading;

The twenty-first century is an age unthinkable by the Roman armies run by Julius Ceaser, who discovered rather uncouthly that Celtic Folk were worshipping the same deities as his own soldiers. Proselytizing is an unfortunate catalyst for war, instead of the monetary gain of barter and trade of a long-forgotten age. When War chiefs were bribed with new medicine for their soldiers after the onslaught, this was, of course, accepted. With honey being a common Anti-bacterial and medieval delicacy, fair trade for even more fair food.
What is known about Welsh Mysticism we can not derive from the likes of Saints and oral histories from the church located in "Southern England," also known as Wales due to Brexit in 2020's A.D
Further Reading;
[archiveorg conquestofgaul00juli width=560 height=384 frameborder=0 webkitallowfullscreen=true mozallowfullscreen=true]

Though whether or not, it was an intentional act of resistance to leave Catholic monks to scribe the four Ancient Books of Wales. The only found manuscripts are from the early 12th hundreds and were kept far away from the ogham utilized to mark walking routes.

(Identical in purpose to the United States Appalachian trail thru-hiking route). These written and or stone-carved manuscripts are the Four Ancient Books of Wales.

First-century records in Latin caused the likes of the previously mentioned Julius Caesar to surmise that unlike vestals were persecuted in the pursuit of keeping Rome safe through lack of celibate piety. The druids burned unfaithful keepers of holy books and scripture to a wicker man. Both outdated and gruesome alternatives to witch burnings of later centuries are nothing more than ableist and misogynistic hate crimes.

This would not account for the love of blood or gore. Menstrual blood, while considered as unclean as urine or feces(everyone who made it past infancy and into sprout training would follow the laws of eating and excreting in nature), was only tied to people, mainly women who give birth. The fascination with gore could also be the divining of bird entrails or wishing to give proper libation to a hunting God. Both subjects of the same bleeding cycle serve not to discredit that war is what the common man wished for; but an unnecessary portion of not wanting to syncretize as the Kemetic pantheon allowed with Dynnes Cleopatra's rule. The war was caused by one Julius Ceaser in Rome's now ancient history.

In conclusion, the grotesque description of one culture warring with another is discourteous. Do not put it only into the minds of folks who allowed the likes of other nations to be homogenized like Ireland and France as well as other prior un United Nations just because it is not a constant topic of interest.

(Blakemore,Erin, National Geographic,November 2019, https://www.nationalgeographic.com/history/article/why-know-little-druidsBlakemore,Erin, National Geographic,November, 2019)

Sacred text or "holy book" of Cymraeg Polytheism (A branch of Celtic Recon "CR")
As mentioned before, the Catholic monks of the twelfth and thirteenth century Europe wrote down what is now known as Welsh mythology. The core and central poems, songs, and tales are categorized by Skene, who would go on to develop a hypothesis.
This hypothesis would lead to the 13th, 14th, and 15th centuries being known for their versions of the oral history archives as well.
https://archive.org/download/fourancientbook00unkngoog/fourancientbook00unkngoog.pdf

Faerie Folklore is the new age (1930s and so forth) slang term for stories told by the campfire. Whether it is for the consumption of entertainment, paranormal, or life lessons to give their children and those children's children. The history of prehistoric tales is in rock and images much like ogham in Ireland travel well.

These would be what in medieval up until the nineteen nineties were considered demons or simply a figment of imagination
(2008-2024)
()
-accessed 9/16/24-
(https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Welsh_mythology)
-accessed 9/16/24-

Prayer
Given the writing by monks and hermits within Guest, Sneke , Wentz and Briggs workings it is safest to assume a prayer position as one would for Catholic Rosary. If Kneeling is difficult or undesired bowing ones head is proper still.
This is an animistic and reconstructive faith, regarding trees as perfect messengers of the god goddess and deity rather than fickle humans. (Including the wood pulp and or money that brings the poetry to life in text or audio form)
Beads have been used for numerous centuries for the purpose of tribute to the virgin mother, divine demi god offspring and the holy spirit. the reader may feel the need to construct their own out of string and wood and or seashells, leather, glass, or other biodegradable material.

Fasting(Optional; Please consult psychiatrist and general medical practitioner)

This can be sexual as seen from the first branch of the Mabinogion and from unhealthy food and drink such as junk food and alcohol in the white book of Taliesin when simply giving a poem form.
Without hindrance if any polytheist / agnostic and or practice of the Welsh Celtic Pantheon and worshiper of Awen and Awen alone would like to abstain from meat, contribute each abstinence to a separate deity
Insects for Bran, Branwen for inorganic/factory-raised meat. , birds of prey for Lludd and Blodeweud, Deer for Arawn, chicken for Cerridwen, fish for Taliesin, cow for Crellidad, pork for Mabon, Cat for Arianhod, Dog for Cwyn annwn and Dormarth.
What time to Fast or abstain if at all?
October 15th through November 1st
January 15th- February 1st
April 15th through May 1st.
July 15th-August 1st.
Generally, two weeks as recorded with Calan Mai and Calan Gaef. We're for the divine God and divine goddess of Annwn. This is not required for worship. Meditation over prayer is valid.
Sources;
(Pagan News Updates not to be confused with only Celtic reconstruction.)

[Holy days]
-Fire festivals-
Calan Awst August 1st

Calan Gaeaf November 1st
Calan Mai May 1st
Gwyl Forwyn February 1st
(https://calendarculture.com/the-four-celtic-fire-festivals-a-guide/, Drew, Nick, 2024 Calander Culture.)
Further reading;
Taylor, joules, The Book of Celtic Symbols, 2020,
-Equinoxes-
(Alban Arthan) December 21-January 1st
(Alban Eilier)March 21st.
(Alban Elfed)September 21st.
(Alban Hefin)June 21st.
(https://education.nationalgeographic.org/resource/equinox/#:~:text=On%20Earth%2C%20there%20are%20two,the%20Northern%20and%20Southern%20Hemispheres., National Geographic, 1996-2024.)
(https://education.nationalgeographic.org/resource/solstice/., National Geographic, 1996-2024)
Further Reading;